SQUEEZING THEM OUT

Canada's immigration commissioner in the United States says there is little prospect of a rush of farmers from the middle and western States to Canada, but that a steady movement in this direction may be long looked for. Provided the movement is substantial, as well as steady, that it will be preferable to a stampede. An immigration "rush" invariably brings percentage of people who persist in the delusion that they are coming to a land that flows with milk and honey until the inhabitants thereof have been reduced to cinders or kee-pees. One of these disillusioned immigrants does more damage to Canada's prestige and credit abroad than an army of immigration agents can undo.

A continuous northern trek of United States farmers who bring with them both experience and some capital with which to start operations is to be expected. Farm land in many of the western and central states is too valuable to farm. The occupant cannot make enough from the land to pay dividends on the high price paid. The pressure of the economic condition is driving farmers across the border to the cheaper and more productive land in Western Canada, and most now more of them each year in proportion as the opportunities here are placed before them by the publication of facts which need no embellishment.

IF GERMANY TURNS "RED"

A Berlin dispatch says that with bankruptcies and breakdowns in their both business and industry, Germany is facing a danger that the masses may turn to communism, a danger imminent enough that industrialists are urging the establishment of a military dictatorship.

Under the Dawes arrangement the Allies took a mortgage on German industry, including their main railways, for their war claims, and also for the amount of a loan which was supposed to put these undertakings on a sound footing and enable them to pay the nation's obligations. The supposition was that German industry was the most dependable asset on which to base a mortgage, if not the only one worth considering.

If German industry is in the position indicated the foundation of the country's existence is cracking, and the chances of the Allies recovering either war claims or the industrial loan are jeoparded. A good many people will feel that should Germany be called on to go the road Russia has gone there will be little cause to treat sympathetically upon it. But it is not to be forgotten that if Germany does not pay the war-claims, the tax-payers of the Allied countries will have to.

The satisfaction of seeing "Prussia" bowed to a soviet would come too high at the price. And the suggestion that he may avoid it by electing to be lashed by a military dictatorship is not much more reassuring from the standpoint of the Allied tax-payers.

BETTER TIMES ARE HERE

The regular issue of land titles states that never in the history of the office were so many discharges of mortgages passing through the official channels. Admitting that for several years the process of liquidating obligations of the kind has been slower than normal, and that there is an accumulation of overdue paper to be cleared off, the fact remains that mortgages can only be paid in cash, and that they are being paid off faster than ever before is conclusive evidence that conditions are a long, long way from being bad. Christmas trade is very good, and reports are that it was also good at other centres in central and northern Alberta generally. Christmas trade consists largely, in luxuries, which people in adverse circumstances buy but sparingly; if they buy at all. The heavy turnover of Christmas goods confirms the evidence from the land titles' office that times in this district are not "hard."

Together these two facts compel the conclusion that we are passing out of the business depression and emerging into a condition of prosperity. When people are paying off mortgages and at the same time buying expensive Christmas presents there is no room to doubt that they are "in funds." When they are doing this more freely than for some years past it is reasonable to assume that they are experiencing an improvement in circumstances.

Three good crops in succession, plus good prices for the grain and other farm products, have re-established business conditions in this part of the Dominion. The Alberta farmer has been making money. That is the basic fact which underlies the improvement in trade and the clearing off of mortgages. It is likewise the basis condition, and the only one necessary, to the extension of prosperity through all branches of society. In town and country, the outlook is distinctly bright.

OUR DAILY POEM

By EDGAR A. GUEST

PERSEUS
 If it shall be said
 When I'm numbered with the dead
 Little children need to know me
 And a dog would miss my hand;
 I'm inclined to think that I
 Shall be welcomed by and by
 Though I have no fame to offer
 When I reach the promised land.

If I've wronged no fellow here
 And my conscience shall be clear,
 If I haven't hurt my neighbors
 By annoyed them with my ways;
 If I've gone from town to town
 Having not too much to say,
 When the good Lord views my record
 I may hear a word of praise.

If a stranger new and then
 In this world of countless men
 Shall remember me for something
 If I've barely tried to be
 Fair with all and talked with me
 That may count that to my credit
 When I've passed beyond the grave.

Do You Remember?

FORTY YEARS AGO

From the Edmonton Bulletin, Saturday, December 28, 1885.
 A. McLean of Little Mountain returned from Calgary last week with the late Miss Christina McDonald of Brandon.
 Mr. MacDonald of Stony Plain arrived last week from his home in the family, who have joined him from British Columbia.
 The school meeting held in the Belmont district on Tuesday evening resulted in the teacher, J. B. Steele, being elected for another year.
 W. R. Roberts, jeweler, arrived from Calgary on Wednesday with D. McLean. Mr. Roberts will remain about a month, engaging in his profession of clock doctor.

If T. McPhillips, who was appointed inspector of weights and measures for Edmonton last spring, has received instructions to transfer his services to Prince Albert.
 The general impression is that if there is trouble with the southern Indians this winter or next spring, their cousins along the Saskatchewan will be as ready to take a hand as last year.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Edmonton Bulletin, Thursday, Dec. 26th, 1895.
 A meeting was held in the Baptist church on Friday night last to organize a branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society. Rev. O. W. Dean was chairman and R. J. Manson, secretary. After short addresses by the chairman and Rev. D. G. McQueen, Rev. Charles Stephen, agent of the society, addressed the meeting. A branch society was organized with J. Johnston Walker, president, the resident clergymen as vice-presidents, R. J. Manson, secretary-treasurer, F. H. Andrews, secretary, and Messrs. Masters, McLean, McLean and Kelly.

The hockey match on Christmas afternoon between Edmonton and St. Sabaschewon Mounted Police team was very interesting and was witnessed by about 200 spectators. The following composed the teams:
 St. Sabaschewon—Const. Wright, Const. Brown, point; Baker, cover point; Insp. Goyden and Constables Dyer, Deane and Lamb forwards. Edmonton—Const. J. E. Leonard, point; Const. D. Harrison, cover points; W. T. Beary, A. G. Grier, F. M. Robertson, J. R. Fulton for guards.

Four fine goals to two in favor of Edmonton. A meeting of the shareholders of the Creamery Co., was held in the town council chamber on Monday afternoon. The president, John Kennedy, in the chair.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Daily Edmonton Bulletin, Thursday, Dec. 26th, 1905.
 It was learned on reliable authority today that the Grand Trunk Pacific survey into the city of Edmonton has been completed, and that the possible routes, completely delineated, are all before the engineering chiefs of the rail companies in Montreal for consideration and final choice.

Before General Manager Morse arrives in the city to sign up the agreement with the city council, the contracts for the entire line from Portage to Edmonton will undoubtedly have been let. President C. M. Hays at Montreal made the important announcement that the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific between French West, half the western end of McDonald and McMillan's contract at the capital of Alberta would be let within sixty days.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Morning Bulletin, Wednesday, December 29th, 1916.
 London—The British cabinet has decided to accept conscription.

Washington, Dec. 29.—According to unofficial information here, will not comply with the demands of the United States in her reply to the recent note.

London—A big German offensive is daily expected on the western front.

Paris—An artillery engagement of unusual severity was reported over the whole front in the Vosges region.

Montreal Herald: The good old days were those when refreshments didn't consist of sausage on a cabbage leaf.

Regina Leader: Fifty-nine thousand new statutes in two years is the record of the United States Congress and the various Legislatures. What will the new year bring forth?

Montreal Standard: Among the New Year's resolutions for 1926 should be one to have respect for Father Time. There was a song "Everybody Works But Father." Time has changed all that, and now we are prepared to invert an amendment that the word "but" be struck out and father be recognized as the senior from whom all blessings flow.

There Ain't No Santy Claus

DR. FRANK CRANE'S EDITORIAL

AMBITION IS NOT RESTLESSNESS
 RESTLESSNESS is often confused with ambition. The restless man is one who is dissatisfied with where you are and doing something else than you are doing after masquerades as aspiration.

George Arliss, the distinguished English actor, says that ambition, as it is generally understood, is a real hindrance to a career on the stage.

He says: "I think it is a good thing to find your mind that the position on the ladder in which you find yourself is where you belong at that particular moment, and that it is advisable to establish yourself firmly there in order to prevent the possibility of being forced to step down."

Solon advised, "Mark well the end." To this good advice should be coupled the other, "Do well the thing at hand."

Solid, lasting progress in this world is almost always made in the way of a mountain climber scaling the side of an icy cliff.

You dig in until you have a sure solid hold, then reach ahead and dig in again. As long as each step is firmly fixed, the climber is attempted you are in little danger of slipping back.

It is when you try to advance suddenly up the slippery slope without solidly grounding each step that you are in danger of being dashed down and losing all you have gained.

Some may have a longer reach ahead than others; but getting each step on a solid base is the secret of sure and steady advance.

College men do not show the advantage of their education when they first begin work in business. Those who can read and began work while they were spending years in school seem to go ahead faster—at first.

But the college man who has dips in his work on a solid base and is less liable to slip later on.

Says Emerson: "A political victory, a rise in rents, the recovery of your sick, or the return of your absent friend, or some other favorable event, raises your spirits and you think good days are preparing for you. Do not believe it. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles."

We imagine that if we were somewhere else, or had another place or were placed in another opportunity we would work our heads off. It is rarely true.

Real ambition shows itself at the present time. It is made evident by doing well the job at hand, by digging in to a solid foundation where you are before going on to something bigger.

UNCOMMON SENSE

—BY JOHN BLAKE—

SHAKING UP
 It was one of the most extraordinary things I have ever seen. It was a man in a suit and tie, standing in the middle of a street, shaking up a can of soda water.

The man who started this foolish thing was a young fellow, about twenty years of age, who had just come from the city. He was a very good-looking fellow, and he was very well-dressed.

There's not much to the victor's laurels, though they are so many. They are only a sign of the fact that the victor has won. They are not a sign of the fact that the victor is a good man.
